

bring your employment contracts to life...

At MMLaw we are able to help you with all of your employment and industrial law needs whether you are an Employer or an Employee.

In Queensland there is a complex matrix of awards and State and Federal legislation affecting your contract of employment. There are many opportunities for a workplace to take advantage of an appropriately structured employment regime which can have the advantage of improving the effective operation and management of a business.

Our clients include employer corporations of in excess of 500 employees, small businesses and individual employees.

At MMLaw we can assist you with assessing your business needs and to structure employment agreements and policies to best suit your requirements.
