

you would die if you knew the consequences of not having a will...

The MMLaw estate planning Lawyers have a maturity and experience that enable them to provide you with the very best advice in respect of your estate planning needs.

Estate planning is all about ensuring that the ones you love the most are properly provided for and our experience enables us to understand the intricacies of family relationships and dynamics, as well as the complexities of business, company, trust and superannuation structures which are often so necessary to ensure that appropriate and effective estate planning is implemented for each person.

We shall structure for you a Will and Enduring Power of Attorney which effectively meets both you and your family's needs.

We shall discuss with you, not only your Will and Financial Power of Attorney, but also Family Agreements, Health Powers of Attorney and Advance Health Directives to ensure that your relevant ancillary documentation (superannuation, company and Trust Deeds) complement your estate planning desires.

Speak to mmlaw
to prepare your will
and power of attorney